

HILL CANNON

small works

Meeting the structural engineering needs for smaller, general projects.

When you need the services of a structural engineer for advice, or to progress a small project, we have a dedicated team who can deliver a wide range of general engineering services.

From structural inspections and calculations for building regulation or planning applications, to advice on completed projects, our engineers start by listening to and understanding your concerns or what you need to achieve.

Our services include:

- New build and alterations to commercial, industrial and domestic properties
- Structural calculations for Building Regulations Approval
- Value Engineering to identify the most cost effective solution
- Structural inspections, including domestic inspections to supplement Home Buyers Surveys
- Industrial and historic buildings
- Checking of temporary exhibition structures
- Party Wall Act administrators
- CDM Co-ordinators
- Checking engineers
- Ecclesiastical buildings

For a no obligation, initial discussion, contact us today.